POOREST OFFERING OF ENTIRE SEASON

Low Grades Exclusively on Floors of Local Warehouse Yesterday

CONSIDERED FAIR SALE

Average of $12.48 Made on
115,665 Pounds Sold---

Other Sales.

With the poorest grade of tobacco that has ever been on the floors of the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Co., composing the principal offerings at the second sale since the postponement for the holidays, yesterday's sale was remarkable in many respects. A total of 115,665 pounds were sold for $1,446.09, or an average of $12.48 per hundred pounds.

Not since the opening of the warehouse company's plant has there been a lower grade of tobacco consigned. It was made up almost exclusively of the most inferior grades, but with all things considered it was, according to the management, the best sale of the season.

Throughout the entire day bidding was spirited, the buyers being very active in competition for the tobacco of the cheaper grades, and as a result the consignees were highly pleased with the prices obtained.

A characteristic which has marked every sale prevailed yesterday in that there were very few rejections, both the buyers and sellers being highly pleased, the latter in the price and the former in the product secured. The best average of the day was made on a crop consigned by J. W. Wright, which went for $19.59 per hundred.

Notwithstanding the fact that very little of the better grades of tobacco have been offered during the entire season, the house average has held up remarkably well throughout. The growers who have the best grades of tobacco in their barns seem inclined to wait until further in the season before putting it on the market, and as a result the floors in previous sales have been full of the lower quality. The prices yesterday ranged as high as $25 for a quantity of tobacco inferior to the medium grades, while a number of baskets went for $20 per hundred. Following are some of the crop averages:

Adair & Perkins, 1,210 pounds, average, $18.12.

C. H. Kuster, 3,870 pounds, average, $16.46.

R. W. Thompson, 1,200 pounds, average, $15.62.

Thompson & Webb, 7,015 pounds, average, $13.13.

Ardery & Earlywine, 2,150 pounds, average, $16.12.

J. L. Horton, 8,345 pounds, average, $15.69.

Marr & Wilson, 5,580 pounds, average, $15.04.

Tarr & Sweeney, 2,315 pounds, average, $15.07.

John M. Clay, 3,660 pounds, average, $14.17.

John W. Wright, 1,425 pounds, average, $19.59.

Humphreys & Becraft, 2,130 pounds, average, $16.60.

Wagoner & Knap, 5,030 pounds, average, $13.77.

Houston & Thomas, 1,475 pounds, average, $15.73.

Receipts at the local warehouse yesterday afternoon were heavy and indications point to a full floor for the next sale, which will be held Saturday.

TUESDAY'S SALE.

The Bourbon Tobacco company sold Tuesday 143,075 pounds of tobacco for $1,755.49, an average of $12.69. The average of Tuesday's sale was only 8 cents lower than the average at the closing sale before Christmas, and the quality was conceded by all to be much below that of the former sale, many placing the difference at more than $4 per hundred. The market was a satisfactory one and rejections were very few.

LEXINGTON.

About 700,000 pounds of tobacco were sold on the Lexington market Wednesday with prices ranging as high as $31 a hundred pounds. The quality of the offerings was practically unchanged. The market was strong, with prices a little higher, the demand for the good grades of red and color being somewhat better, while the cheaper tobacco held up well.

CARLISLE.

Carlisle tobacco market was firm Wednesday. One hundred thousand pounds were sold, prices ranging up to $35 per hundred.

MT. STERLING.

About 240,000 pounds of tobacco were sold Wednesday at prices ranging from two to twenty-one and a half cents. Red tobacco showed an upward tendency. Market active and color more in evidence.

SHELBYVILLE.

The higher prices which have prevailed since the holidays were well maintained on the loose leaf tobacco

MATRIMONIAL.

HARRIS-EAST.

—Miss Rosamond Harris and Mr. Rufus E. East, both of Pike, O., came to this city Wednesday, and after procuring a marriage license, were united in marriage by Judge Denis Dundon, in his private office in the court house.

ADDAMS-MOORE.

—Miss Anna May Addams and Mr. Thomas E. Moore, Jr., were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Addams, at Pike street and Elmarch avenue, in Cinthiana, Tuesday morning, Dec. 30, at 9:30 o'clock. The ceremony was said by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church.

Only members of the immediate families were present. The bride, a bright and winsome girl, wore a handsome tailored suit and black hat and corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore left on the 10 o'clock train for Florida, and on returning, will reside for a while at Hazard, Ky., where Mr. Moore's business interests call him.

The groom is a son of Capt. and Mrs. T. E. Moore, formerly of Shawhan, but for a number of years past residents of Lexington. He is a lawyer and was formerly county attorney of this county.

TAUL-GORHAM.

—The marriage of Miss Lillie Taul and Mr. Thos. Gorham, of Nicholas county, was celebrated in this city Tuesday afternoon. Rev. J. S. Sims, pastor of the Paris Methodist church, in the presence of a few witnesses.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a blue tailored suit with white hat and gloves. She is the daughter of the late Mr. Thomas Taul and Mrs. Sallie Taul, of Carlisle, and is a very prepossessing young lady.

Mr. Gorham is a prosperous young farmer of Nicholas county, and is very popular with a large circle of friends. After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Gorham will return to Carlisle, where they will reside permanently.

LEXINGTON MERCHANT KILLED BY FALL THROUGH SHAFT.

Mr. Stanley Milward, of the undertaking firm of W. R. Milward & Sons, of Lexington, one of the best-known men in Central Kentucky, was instantly killed at 7:20 o'clock Wednesday morning when in an attack of dizziness he fell through the elevator shaft of the firm's building from the third to the first floor.

There was no sign of life in the body as it was lifted from the elevator floor. Examination showed the skull had been fractured and there were other injuries to the body.

Mr. Milward was at work with a crew of men packing and preparing some furniture for shipment which had been stored in the third floor of the building. The men say that Mr. Milward complained of biliousness and of having been nauseated at his stomach during the night.

He sent one of his crew downstairs to bring up a wagon on the elevator, and was standing near the open shaft, when without warning, he swayed over the edge, lost his balance and fell.

He struck the floor of the elevator, which was standing two stories below, on his head and feet, his body being bent. One foot was forced through the flooring breaking a large hole in the planks. In striking on his head, the skull above the temple and at the side of the forehead was crushed in.

Mr. Milward was born in Lexington. He attended the Lexington schools and Kentucky University, as it was then called, and had since his college days been associated with his father and brother in the undertaking business.

About twenty-one years ago Mr. Milward was married to Miss Bessie Featherstone, of Fayette county, four children resulting from the union, being Miss Annie, Miss Margaret, William R. III, and Stanley, Jr.

He is survived also by his father and mother and by his brothers, William R., Jr., with whom and his father he was associated in business; John Bright Milward, now in South America, and one sister, Mrs. Gerald Andres de Haseth, of Seattle, Wash.

BATTLES RAGING IN 2 MEXICAN TOWNS

Ojinaga Scene of Bloody Carnage In Fierce Battle During Night.

600 FEDERAL SLAIN.

Wounded Cross Border and Implore Help—May Give Up To U. S.

PRESIDIO, TEX., Jan. 1.—The battle of Ojinaga, Mexico, between the northern division of the Federal army and rebels continued this morning, after having been in progress all the night.

Five or six hundred Federals had already been killed and the number of the wounded will be far in excess of that number.

Horrifying sights were witnessed on the American side before daylight. Wounded soldiers with shattered arms, legs shot off, and injuries that later proved fatal, struggled through the river, and pleaded with the American soldiers for help.

All the physicians and medical supplies available here were placed at the service of the disabled Federals. Before daylight more than 200 wounded had sought relief on this side.

Some of them were so badly injured that they begged the American soldiers to kill them. From the war-scarred little village of Ojinaga, back a mile from the Rio Grande river, appeared to be an endless tide of the wounded.

Federal deserters also came to the river in great numbers, indicating that the bulk of Huerta's army was disposed to give up. All the deserters who were not wounded, however, were disarmed on this side and sent back by Major McNamee, commanding the United States border patrol. Major McNamee has more than 300 guns which he took from deserters.

During the night the groaning of the wounded on the battlefield on the opposite side of the river could be heard by the American cavalrymen. The firing in the darkness seemed to be heavier than it had been.

All women, children and non-combatants of Ojinaga came to the river and were taken to the American side.

The little Red Cross headquarters on this side, where the Federal wounded are being cared for, now is as active as a field hospital on a battlefield.

FIGHTING AT NUEVO LAREDO.

LAREDO, TEX., Jan. 1.—Mexican rebels renewed their skirmishing on the outskirts of Nuevo Laredo an hour before dawn. Several hundred shots were fired. Preliminary fighting for possession of the town, garrisoned by about 2,000 Federals, had begun soon after midnight. Lulls in the fighting were frequent. Soon after the beginning of the hostilities homes on the American side of the border that might be within line of fire were deserted.

ARMY MAY GIVE UP TO U. S.

PRESIDIO, TEX., Jan. 1.—(Bulletin)—The surrender of the whole Mexican Federal army to the United States troops is momentarily expected.

Major McNamee, commanding the border patrol, so advised the United States authorities today.

A message addressed by Major McNamee to Gen. Hugh L. Scott at El Paso says:

"Heavy artillery firing continues in and about Ojinaga. Several hundred women and children have come across and are under cover of this side.

"I am still driving the Federals back, first disarming them. Have now over two hundred rifles, and other arms and ammunition. Expect at any time during the fight that the greater part of the Federal army, possibly 2,000 or 3,000, may be forced to cross the river. I have made disposition to disarm and hold them if this takes place."

LEXINGTON DAILY LEADER PASSES INTO NEW HANDS.

The Lexington Leader, the oldest and most influential Republican daily newspaper in Kentucky, after more than twenty-five years under the same ownership and management, having been founded on May 1, 1888, and for so many years ably edited by the late Samuel Judson Roberts, with yesterday's issue passes into new hands. It recently was acquired by a syndicate of capitalists, headed by R. C. Stoll and his brother, Representative John R. Stoll, which assumed active charge.

Harry Giovannoli, who for a number of years past has been connected with the Internal Revenue Department at Washington, is its new editor-in-chief and general manager. James M. Ross will continue as managing editor and the present efficient force will be retained.

The policy of the paper will continue Republican.

SHOULD GO SLOW.

A paroled negro convict has been arrested in St. Louis and no less than seventy thefts have been traced to his restless activity since his release from the penitentiary on parole two years ago. The incident shows the danger of the indiscriminate parole. Some years ago a paroled convict killed two people in Louisville. Prison boards lose nothing by going slow in turning convicted criminals loose upon the community.

DESPAIRING FATHER OFFERS CHILDREN FOR SALE

Declaring that he was poor and unable to provide for his children as he desired, Stephen Godo, of St. Louis, a beef killer, Tuesday advertised them for sale. Godo asks $2,000 for his six-year-old daughter, Margaret, and $1,000 for his son, Stephen, 8 years old.

WIFE OF FORMER VICE PRESIDENT IS DEAD

Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson, wife of former Vice President Stevenson, died early Thursday morning at her home in Bloomington, Ill. She had been ill for several months.

Mrs. Stevenson was seventy years old and is survived by her husband and three children, Lewis G. Stevenson, President of the Illinois State Board of Pardons; Mrs. Nannie J. Hardin, of Chicago, and Miss Letitia Stevenson, of Bloomington.

Mrs. Stevenson was elected President of the Daughters of the American Revolution four times and recently published a history of that organization.

Mrs. Stevenson was formerly Miss Letitia Green, daughter of the Rev. Lewis W. Green, of Danville, Ky., and was married to Vice President Stevenson in 1866.

DOUBLE TRACKS FOR THE ENTIRE CUMBERLAND DIVISION

It is reported that the Louisville & Nashville railroad is considering estimates on the cost of double tracking the entire Cumberland Valley Division, due to the heavy coal traffic that has grown up in the new Harlan county field in the last year. The Harlan mines although most of them are new are averaging an output of 160 cars of coal daily. This large amount is said to be giving the operating department of the L. & N. much trouble to handle. About six hundred cars daily are going through to Corbin where they are transferred for movement either north or south. This great growth in the coal traffic is not only taxing the move capacity of the L. & N., but it is interfering with the operation of passenger trains.

It is likely the work of double tracking the division will begin in the early spring or summer. Nearly all the increase in the coal traffic comes from the new branch in the Harlan field, although older mines have been maintaining a large output.

HUSBAND AND WIFE ARE EXEMPT UP TO $4,000.

Further regulations for payment of the income tax issued Tuesday at Washington, provide that husband and wife living together shall be entitled to an exemption of $4,000 from the aggregate net income of both, but when separated and living apart, permanently, each shall be entitled to a $3,000 exemption.

Where husband and wife, living together, have separate estates, their income may be made upon one return, but the amount of the income of each with the full names and addresses must be shown.

The husband, the regulation says, should make the return as the head and legal representative of the household. Where a wife has an estate managed by herself, from which she receives an income of more than $3,000, she may make her own return, and if the husband, in such cases, has an income which brings the total above $4,000, the wife's return should be attached to that of her husband, or vice versa.

Where either husband or wife has an income of $3,500 or more a return is required under the law, no matter whether the combined income of both be less than $4,000. When the joint income exceeds $4,000 husband and wife are jointly and separately liable for making the proper returns and for the payment of the tax. The single or married status of persons claiming the exemptions provided shall be determined at the time made if it is made within the year of return, otherwise the status shall be determined at the close of the year.

THE DEVIL'S SLIDES

Colorado and Montana Both Have Natural Phenomena.

One Near Yellowstone Park is a Great Trough Pitching Down the Gannab Mountain of the Gallatin Range.

Denver, Colo.—There is a Devil's slide in both Montana and Colorado, quite different in character, yet of such tremendous proportions, so steep and so jagged as to suggest that only the devil himself could accomplish the slide down them and continue to do business thereafter. The Devil's slide in Montana, shown in the illustration, is near the Yellowstone National park, a great trough pitching down Gannab mountain of the Gallatin range, formed by two huge parallel knife-blade ridges of white quartzite. The space between these two almost vertical backbones is quite narrow and constitutes a vertical chute ending in a small lake at the base of the slide into which the devil was supposed to plunge at the end of his toboggan ride. The Colorado Devil's slide is an exceedingly steep slope on the almost perpendicular sides of the Gunnison canyon. The rock here is entirely devoid of vegetation and the "slide" is quite unclimbable. Any person, devil or otherwise, starting at the top would certainly reach the bottom and plunge into the foaming Gunnison river in record time. The Devil's slide is not far from the great Gunnison irrigation tunnel which the Government Reclamation service has bored through a tremendous mountain wall to divert the waters from the Gunnison river out into the fertile lands of the Uncompaghe valley. The Devil's slide of the Gunnison is but one of the many awesome sights which met the gaze of the party of government engineers who made an exploration, on an inflated raft, of the Black canyon of the Gunnison a few years ago before starting to tunnel the mountain. This was the first time that anyone was known to have passed through this portion of the canyon.

STORAGE PLANT IS UNIQUE

Water From Lava Springs Used to Cool Fruit in Valley of Oregon.

Hood River, Ore.—A unique cold storage building is now being completed in this valley. The structure adjoins the lava beds near Woodworth Park and has been built of this stone entirely. The building is three stories in height. The lower floor, which has a capacity of 10,000 boxes of fruit, is constructed on a foundation of the loose stone eighteen feet in depth.

Water from the lava springs, flowing almost directly from the ends of glaciers and but a few degrees above the freezing point, will run along these loose stones. The water of the cold springs is also allowed to pass through numerous pipes attached to the ceiling and along the walls of the building. In the second and third stories the apples will be packed and sorted.

REFUGE TO 2 MILLION BIRDS

The Audubon Societies Maintained Reservations and Colonies for Songsters.

New York.—Two million birds found a safe refuge this year on reservations and guarded colonies of the National Association of Audubon societies, according to the annual report of the organization made public here. In addition 10,000 albatrosses have been protected in brooding grounds throughout the southern states by sixteen armed agents of the association. Fifty-two thousand boys and girls have been enrolled as junior members and $80,000 was given by American bird lovers.

RADFORD TALKS IN DEFENSE OF HEN.

High Price of Eggs In No Wise Due to the Reported Shortage.

MIDDLEMAN CAUSE

Governmental Aid Asked In Providing a Great Cold Storage System.

(By Peter Radford, Lecturer National Farmers' Union.)

The queen of the American barnyard has had more revolts among her subjects during the past few weeks than perhaps at any time during her rule on the Western hemisphere, and lest the historian of the nation's poultry yard do her an injustice in recording the insurrection, I want to make a few observations in her behalf.

The Consumer Not The Whole Thing.

The consumer should not be taken too seriously; he is always complaining. Many times he has called King Cotton a tyrant, has rebelled against the steer and the hog, and in mutinous moods, he has refused to eat bread, but his seditions do not last long. Responding to the wall of the consumer, the Federal Department of Justice investigated the hen as unceremoniously as though she were a Wall Street millionaire; the housewife has rallied at her and passed resolutions questioning her business integrity and the press has carried sensational stories accusing her majesty of disloyalty to her subjects, until the friends of the hen have cried out "God Save the Queen." When the consumer raised a howl, the entire machinery of government is set in motion and the power of the press rushes to the rescue. The consumer is a great talker, but he is not the whole thing, and what he has to say should be taken with a grain of salt.

Whose Ox Is Gored.

If patriotism and justice were the motives that actuated the investigations and resolutions which the hen has been subjected to on account of the high price of eggs, why is it the low price of eggs has never received the attention of these public spirited citizens? Should not farm housewife feel as deeply outraged when she is compelled to pay a high price? Is it not a question of whose ox is gored?

It would be interesting to know when and where the hen entered into an agreement with the consumer to furnish eggs on demand at prices fixed by the city housewife. Can anyone produce the document? Why should she be arranged before the highest tribunal in the land and humiliated by inquisitorial proceedings and her conduct subjected to review by mere consumers whose knowledge of the poultry business has been acquired at the breakfast table?

During all this furor the hen has stood upon her constitutional rights, cackling merrily as she laid fifty billion eggs per day and producing wealth approximating more than a half billion dollars per annum. The farm value of the poultry products produced per annum in the United States is equal to the annual gold production of the world. The yearly egg production alone is double the value of the annual petroleum supply of the nation and is equal to the value of the iron ore production of the United States.

The Hen Not at Fault.

There are many causes which have contributed towards sending the cyclone of high prices raging through the market places, but in my opinion they are largely artificial and I am sure did not originate in the poultry yard.

The pure food laws has forced large quantities of ancient stock, usually available in emergencies, to be dumped. The Italian hand of the speculator casts its shadow over the wreckage and our faulty system of distribution has snapped in its weak places. All these forces of trade have combined to bring about a riot in the market places, but the hen has entered no conspiracy against the consumer. As a rule she has been doing her duty. Perhaps she may have hesitated to perform the full service allotted her by civilization, as we all sometimes do, but she has been on the job all the time and no court can sentence her to lay more eggs or fix a price for her product.

Where The Farmer Fails.

Our reckless system of distribution must stand the brunt of the blame for loss to the producer, but there are other causes wholly within the control of the producer. By proper housing and balancing the rations of the hen, the egg producing season can be more evenly distributed throughout the entire year, and the importance of using cold storage plants minimized. The egg crop is one of the very few harvests that can be made to extend throughout the entire year. Science and enterprise should follow closely in the wake of the receding stream of swollen prices and strengthen the weak places which have developed under the strain.

Oh, You Middleman!

The farmer did not get the money. It may be that some of the farmers living near the large cities who sold their eggs to the consumer direct, but in the community where I farm, the peckler who bought our eggs never paid us more than 20 cents per dozen and from such investigations as I have been able to make, I believe 25 cents was the high water mark in average farm prices of any one throughout the entire United States, although the press reports from some of the large cities quoted a retail price ranging from 50 cents to $1 per dozen. The transportation rate would not exceed five cents per dozen, and the gap between the amount paid the producer, plus the cost of transportation, and the price paid by the consumer was filled by the middleman.

Much has been said and more written about the middleman, but he is oftentimes a helpless victim of our immortal system of distribution. He is almost as talkative as the consumer, and as an explainer he is a gem.

So long as we turn over our products to the middleman and give him the keys to our warehouse, he has the power of placing our crops upon the gambling table and no amount of legislation can entirely eliminate the spirit of the 'speculator' from human nature. If we are going to the root of the trouble, we must do something more than define crime and punish criminals. We must give the producer facilities for storing his products.

Producers Want Only Fair Prices.

The consumer destroys wealth; the producer creates it. Any investigation or study of our economical problems must be approached from the standpoint of the producer before a solution can be found. We can only build our civilization through the producer. If we follow the consumer, destruction lies in our pathway.

The producer is the most capable and the only universal citizen in civilization. He cannot help himself without helping all mankind. The element of selfishness that dominates every other class of industry is impossible in his business. The producer really has more to fear from inflated prices of his product than the consumer, for high prices will inevitably result in an increase in production and will automatically lower the price oftentimes below the cost of production and jeopardize the very life of the industry. The interests of the producer are antagonistic to exorbitantly high prices and likewise the best interests of the consumer are hostile to abnormally low prices.

The price should be one that the farmer can afford to raise the stuff and the consumer afford to buy it.

We are a government by consumers and for consumers, and our laws and customs conform to his requirements, and as long as this condition prevails there will always be strife and rebellion due to the incompetency of our economic system.

Too Many Investigators.

The business affairs of this nation are bed-ridden with investigations. It is the consumer's fad to investigate everything and everybody and call anything a crime that does not contribute towards lowering prices.

Commissions composed of distinguished citizens are given high sounding titles and sent out to search the sewers of business, and amid tremendous applause of the public they flash upon the canvas frailties of our system of distribution that have been known to exist ever since we have had a system. These commissions, after discovering the same old continents of error, file their reports and sail away and are never heard of again. If the government really wants to render a genuine service to the farmer, why not quit talking and get down to business?

Co-Operation the Remedy.

The Farmers' Union has urged the producer and the consumer to co-operate through the parcels post, and express companies as first aid to the present difficulty, but the problem of marketing farm products is a monumental one and its complete solution lies in the farmer owning or controlling cold storage plants, warehouses and proper equipment for holding his surplus until there is a market demand. So long as the storage facilities are in the hands of the middleman, there will be artificial manipulation of prices and the producer and consumer will become joint victims of his avarice.

It was a sad day for the farmer of this nation when they shut the cellar door, closed the smokehouse and tore down their granaries and turned their warehouses over to private enterprises, making it possible for trusts and combines to feast, fatten and gamble upon their products. We should build co-operative storage plants, warehouses, elevators, creameries, etc., and to do so will require a system of co-operative laws adapted to the business of farming and in the transaction from individual to community effort we will need the support of government and the co-operation of all agencies that are friendly to the farmer. In another article I shall go more fully into details on this feature of the subject.

BEST COUGH MEDICINE FOR THE CHILDREN

"I am very glad to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Lida Dewey, Milwaukee, Wis. "I have used it for years for my children and myself and it never fails to relieve and cure a cough or a cold. No family with children should be without it as it gives almost immediate relief in cases of croup." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is pleasant to take, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. For sale by all dealers. (adv.) (Jan)

Today—"How Filmy Won His Heart." Filmy operated the picture machine at the theatre and, being rejected by his lady love, he threw some of the pictures on the screen upside down and the audience howled. Filmy was "fired" by the red-hot manager and you thought his love prospects were worse off than ever, wouldn't you? Instead his bad luck sent him good luck and the girl. "In Three Hours," a thrilling Western drama; and "Love Sickness at Sea," will compose the program.

Saturday—"Little Brother," a Tanager, is a "By-the-Sea" yarn from Cape May. Now, they were oh-so-much in love, and naturally there was a red-hot quarrel that sent them drifting. The man wanted her love again, nevertheless. She had a brother—yes, the Little Brother—and it was via him that the man "made up" with her again. But the little brother had a mint of fun with the "Make-Up" while helping him; "Borrowed Gold." How narrowly shall we judge a woman who commits a statutory crime under stress of her woman's emotions cover someone whose well-being is more to her than life or reputation? A woman, for example, stealing for her husband or child, in dire need? and a comic reel entitled "Father and the Flies," will also be shown.

WRESTLING MATCH AT DPORA HOUSE JANUARY 5.

On Monday night, January 5, Dr. B. F. Roller, of Seattle, Washington, and Billie Jenkins, of Chicago, will wrestle at the Paris Opera House for the best two out of three falls. Dr. Roller is conceded to be the greatest wrestler in the United States with the exception of Frank Gotch, the heavy weight champion, and as he has appeared in a match in this city once before, he is no stranger to the lovers of the wrestling game in Paris. Two other preliminaries will also be held the same night. Dr. Roller will wrestle "Strangler" Lewis at Lexington on the following Tuesday night and it is an unusual thing for a town the size of Paris to be able to have such well-known wrestlers as Dr. Roller and Billy Jenkins appear before them. It is a foregone conclusion that they will be greeted by a large audience when they appear on the mat Monday night. Tickets on sale Saturday, January 3, at Mitchell & Blakemore's.

PASSING OF THE OLD YEAR VERY QUIETLY OBSERVED

The new year of 1914 was ushered in Wednesday night with but little demonstration of any sort. There was a conspicuous absence of ringing bells and the sound of whistles. The only event of note which marked the passing of the old year and the welcoming of the new was the cabaret and watch dinner at the cafe of "Kid" Stout, which was a fashionable event in every detail.

Every table in the spacious room on the first floor of the building was occupied, as well as those of the second floor. The diners began to assemble about 11 o'clock, and were admitted to the rooms. Each table was a scene of beauty, profusely decorated with beautiful flowers, which were set off to a marked degree by the polished silver and glassware.

The menu was very elaborate and consisted of the following: Blue points on the half shell, hearts of celery, consommé de volaille, Cross & Blackwell's walnuts, broiled white fish, Venetienne butter, shoe string potatoes, cold asparagus, punch, roast young turkey, oyster dressing, cranberry jelly, mashed potatoes, French peas, endive salad, French dressing, French Bizarro ice cream, marshmallow cakes, Roquefort cheese, Bent's biscuits and coffee. The menu was elegantly served in eight courses.

During the hours the guests were served a string orchestra discoursed beautiful music, while two cabaret girls sang during the entire evening. The affair was the most delightful of the season, and was a fitting close to the holiday festivities.

HIS STOMACH TROUBLES OVER

Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Baker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says: "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets; then my trouble was over." Sold by all dealers. (adv)

NEWSPAPER ACCOUNT OF JAS. A. STEWART'S DEATH

The Wheeling, W. Va., Intelligencer gives the following account of the death of Mr. James A. Stewart, formerly of this city, which occurred in that city recently:

"While en route to attend a meeting of Wheeling Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, James A. Stewart, pioneer resident of the city, was stricken with heart trouble and collapsed on the sidewalk on the Island approach to the Suspension bridge about 7:45 last night, dying immediately. He left his home apparently in good health, having eaten a hearty meal and hurried away to be present at the meeting. He wore the uniform of the lodge when death called him.

"He was alone when the end came and no person could be found who saw him fall. The first known of his demise was when two young men found his body lying on the sidewalk in front of the 'round house' on the approach to the bridge. The boys notified persons in the neighborhood and the body was carried to the home of Mr. Herbert O. Baer, where Dr. W. P. McGrath was called, but it was too late, as death had won.

"As soon as the word was passed a great crowd gathered near the place where the unfortunate man fell. For a time his identity was in doubt, as few of the younger people knew him, until L. A. Lallance, Jr., a great friend of the dead man, was called and identified the body. Coroner Galla Mitchell was called to the scene but stated that an inquest was unnecessary and that he would depend on the diagnosis of Dr. McGrath, who had been called immediately after his death, and who had already fixed the cause as heart failure superinduced by old age.

"Following the momentary inquest the body was removed to the home of his niece, Mrs. Curtis P. Brown, at No. 310 North Front street, where the body was prepared for burial. Curtis Brown, nephew of the deceased, who is secretary of the F. W. Baumer Company, and at the time of the sad occurrence was working at the store, was almost prostrated with grief at the sad message, as he had left Mr. Stewart in apparently good health when he departed for his work following the evening meal.

"Friends of the family and old co-partners in business who had known Mr. Stewart in the early days of his life and who had been associated with them in practically all the walks of life, are almost prostrated with the sad message imparted to them last night. Few men have enjoyed the wide friendship and hearty good will of the general public so much as the deceased.

"Mr. Stewart was well-known fraternally, and took great interest in work along this line. He was a member of the commandery of Knights Templar, of Cynthiana, Kentucky, being a past commander of that body. During the time he has been a member of the order he has never missed a meeting, and at the time of his death was on his way to visit his adopted commandery of this city. He was one of the widest known Masons of the states of West Virginia and Kentucky, taking an active part in all their conventions.

"The deceased has been a lifelong member of the Protestant Episcopal church, being affiliated with Saint Luke's P. E. church on the Island. During his entire life he has been successful in business and has ever been ready to help those in need.

"He was the son of John Park and Sarah Hughes Stewart, and was born in Martinsburg, West Virginia, in February, 1833. He came to this city when but a mere boy. After graduating from the public schools of the city, he entered the employ of the Logan Drug Company, and traveled for them much after the fashion of circuit riders during the early 60's. A grand niece of the deceased said last night that when she was but a child he would tell her of the cold winter days that he had ridden mile after mile over rough unbroken mountains, exposed to wild storms and to the wilder beasts that infested those mountains at that time.

"Mr. Stewart was connected with this firm until 1870, when he went to Paris, Kentucky, and there entered business for himself. Here he worked until 1905, when he returned to his home town and purchased the drug store at the corner of Zane and Penn streets, now occupied by W. T. Dinsmore. He later sold the business to Mr. Lallance and returned to Kentucky, where he resumed his former business relations in that town until three years ago, when he came to this city to live with his nearest relative, Mrs. Curtis Brown, of North Front street.

"Here he has resided in a retired fashion for the past three years, devoting his time to the work of the lodge and his church. Deceased was a successful business man. Although not a graduate of any college, he had dug out the ingredients of a medicinal education by close study and practical experience. His education was the kind taught by the living things and objects with which he came in contact. He was a registered druggist in the states of West Virginia and Kentucky, and one of the best authorities on pharmaceutical work in the state.

"His library of knowledge and books has long been the help of many a young fellow who was first entering upon the field of pharmacy, and now with the passing of this great life they have lost a friend who was materially and spiritually a guide worthy of following.

"Stop now the pages of history and see the wide difference with which persons meet their Maker at the end. With probably unusual gusto the now dead man relished his supper which had been prepared by his niece and had made ready to attend the meeting of his brothers in secret. Leaving home with spirits high and feeling in the best of health, he walked to the bridge which would have carried him to the city proper, and there, by one mere touch of the hand of death, never to rise again. The first intimation or warning that the unsuspecting family had of the sad occurrence was when a messenger came to them that their beloved relative had died.

"Thus, by one stroke, this home, which was in the midst of preparation for the Christmas festivities, was plunged into the deepest gloom. The life which had gone forth from them in health and good will was brought back to them stiff and cold, nevermore to speak or to greet the loved ones who had been the cheer of his aged personage on this earthly shore. A life spent in usefulness and work, and for which none can say aught against him, had departed to meet its Maker in the land beyond."

LEMON TRUST EXISTS IS CHARGED IN LAW SUIT.

Charges that a lemon trust exists in New York and has maintained a lobby in Washington to reduce the tariff on lemons are made in a suit filed in New York recently by William S. Armstrong, receiver for the Mercantile-Regan Company, importers of fruits.

Armstrong seeks to recover damages from the Sciala-American Steamship Company, which he says entered into an agreement in 1911 with the Fruit Importers' Union and other importers of lemons to add 2 pence, English money, to the regular freight rates on every box of lemons brought here by the line. The Mercantile-Regan Company, which failed in 1912, was not a member of the union or a party to the agreement, Armstrong relates, but was compelled to use the steamers of the Sciala-American Company and pay the extra rate.

The plaintiff alleges that this extra tax was to be used to lobby for a reduction of the tariff on Italian lemons in opposition to the efforts of the California lemon growers, who wanted the tariff retained.

IMPERIAL ENTERS TOBACCO MARKET AT HOPKINSVILLE

J. T. Thomas, manager for the Imperial Tobacco Company, at Hopkinsville, has received instructions to re-enter the tobacco market, and the big plant there will be operated this season and the usual purchases put up.

Since the adverse verdict rendered against the Imperial at Morganfield they had withheld from the market all over the State.

The plant at Hopkinsville has been recently overhauled, and is ready to start up any day, and it will just as soon as sufficient stock can be gotten together.

Until a few days ago not a pound of tobacco had been bought by the company, but in addition to buying on the loose floors buyers will be put into the country this week, and they will go after the tobacco.

This means that the Imperial will put up from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 pounds.

Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Baker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says: "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets; then my trouble was over." Sold by all dealers. (adv)

CHRONIC CONSTIPATION CURED

"Five years ago I had the worst case of chronic constipation I ever knew of, and Chamberlain's Tablets cured me," writes W. S. Fish, Brooklyn, Mich. For sale by all dealers. (Jan)

HINDMAN, KY., TO RAISE FROM THE ASHES.

Advices from Hindman, Knott county, say that plans are completed for the immediate beginning of construction of the burned district of the county seat of Knox county. Modern and thoroughly up-to-the-times business buildings will rise up phoenix-like in the wake of the disastrous conflagration. The Hindman Bank will erect a $20,000 home, while Francis Day & Co. will erect a splendid store building to cost in the aggregate of $25,000.

CHICAGO POLICE WOMAN PROVES HER WORTH

Mrs. Mary Boyd, one of Chicago's ten policewomen, is not a large woman, but she is muscular. Friday she boarded a street car while a powerful bully built man and the conductor were engaged in a fight over a transfer. Mrs. Boyd showed her star and separated the two men, telling the passenger he was under arrest. When he resisted the officer she pulled him off the car, stood him against a post and rang for the patrol wagon.

CIRCUIT JUDGES OF STATE WILL CONVENE TODAY

Circuit judges from all over the State will meet in Louisville today for the annual meeting of the association of Circuit Judges of Kentucky, which is to be held at the Hotel Henry. Watson, Judge William H. Field, of Louisville, will speak on "Actions By Fraud," and Judge Chas. Marshall of Shelbyville, will also address the members.

Arrangements for the meeting, which will include a luncheon at the hotel, are being made by the Judges of the Jefferson County Court, Judges James P. Gregory, James Quarles, Samuel B. Kirby, William H. Field, Thomas R. Gordon, Walter P. Lincoln and W. M. Smith.

A PUZZLE.

We borrow from the New York Press the following instructive history of a head of cabbage:

"This head of cabbage is grown by a small farmer in Connecticut, who gets a cent and a half for it. It first goes to the commission merchant, who lives on Riverside Drive, pays $2,000 a year for his apartment, keeps an automobile and spends $2,000 a year. Next the cabbage is sent to the wholesaler, who lives on West End Avenue, in an $1,800 apartment, keeps an automobile and who spends $6,000 a year. Thence the cabbage goes to the jobber, who lives in a $1,500 apartment on upper Broadway, keeps an automobile and spends $5,000 a year. From him the cabbage travels to the retailer, who lives in a $700 apartment on a side street, has a corner store for which he pays $25 a month rent, keeps two delivery wagons at a cost of $140 per month, and spends $2,500 on his living. Finally the cabbage gets to Mr. Ultimate Consumer, who lives in a $40-a-month tenement, rides in a trolley car or subway, spends all he can make or a little more to live, and pays for that head of cabbage thirteen cents."

Puzzle—Find the cabbage head.

BUMPER YEAR IN AMERICA DESPITE EXTREME DROUGHTS

Ten billion dollars' worth of products, $5,000,000,000 of cash income—a bumper year in spite of droughts and other setbacks—is the 1913 record of 6,000,000 American farms.

The most successful year of husbandry in the United States brought forth $6,100,000,000 worth of crops, of which $2,896,000,000 were represented by cereals alone, and $3,650,000,000 worth of animals sold and slaughtered and animal products. The value of the 1913 crops is twice as great as that of 1899; more than a $1,000,000,000 over 1909; and substantially greater in 1912. Of all the crops, however, it is estimated that 52 per cent will remain on farms where they were produced and that 20 per cent of the animal production will remain. On that basis the cash income is estimated by the Department of Agriculture at $5,847,000,000.

But despite a record year of crop value—although the record of production has fallen—and the fact that the number of farms has increased 11 per cent since 1910, until there are now estimated to be 6,000,000 farms in the country, the department, in a discussion of the subject recently made public, does not take the view that a lower cost of living will follow as a consequence.

A town man occasionally can shape his business so that he can lie down beside it and take a nap. But a farmer, after his regular work has been attended to, always has a well to dig.

The attitude of the Warden of the Kansas penitentiary is attracting attention. Not wishing to set a bad example for the convicts, he shaved off his whiskers before taking charge of the institution.

SALE OF MR. GREEN LEER TUESDAY IS WELL ATTENDED

Auctioneer Geo. D. Speakes, of this city, Tuesday conducted the sale of stock, crop and farming implements of Mr. Green Leer on his farm known as the Socrates Bowles farm, about four and one-half miles from Paris, on the Jackstown pike. A part of the farm was recently sold by Mr. Leer to Mr. John Lair, at $160 per acre. The sale was well attended and everything brought good prices, as follows:

Sheep, $6.50 to $7.75 per head; cattle shoats, $3 to $7.10 each; sows, $15 to $25; milch cows, $75 to $95; yearling cattle, $51 per head; one suckling calf, $58; feeders, weighing 400 lbs., $72.80 per head; four coming yearling mules, $124.75 each; four yearling mules, $77.50 each; one pair five-year-old mules, $402.50; one pair gray mares, $425; corn in the crib, $3.90 to $4.20 per barrel; corn in the shock, $1.90 per shock; topper, 25 cents per shock. The bidding was spirited throughout.

ED TIPTON TO MANAGE C. K. G. BILLINGS' INTERESTS

Edward A. Tipton, president and general manager of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, and formerly of Paris, who is interested with C. K. G. Billings, the New York millionaire trotting horse manager, in further developing the trotting industry, has been engaged by Mr. Billings to manage the horse department of the Curly's Neck Farm, near Richmond, Va., which was recently acquired by Mr. Billings. Mr. Tipton, it is announced, expects to divide his time between Lexington and New York. He succeeds Charles Tanner, who for years has directed the horse interests of Billings, but who recently resigned.

—Amity Lodge No. 40 F. & A. M. closes another brilliant year. Mr.

W. A. Butler, the retiring Master, has served two terms in his office, the first being in 1907, and was again elected in 1912, serving through the year of 1913. The year closes with two members having been taken in two others on the road, one having taken his first and the other his second degree. There is also a petition to be acted upon in January. The year 1914 also promises to be a brilliant one, as there is considerable work awaiting the new Master. Mr. J. B. Cray, the successor of Mr. W. A. Butler as Master, occupied the same chair twenty-five years ago. Mr. O. R. Rankin acted as Grand Marshal on both occasions when Mr. Cray was installed. He is thoroughly conversant with Masonry, and we look for a bright, prosperous year.

—Miss Jennie Evans, aged about 70, died Tuesday night at 10 o'clock, at the home of her niece, Mrs. Ashby Leer, of catarrhal pneumonia. Miss Evans has been a sufferer from organic heart trouble for a long time and for the past four months has been in a serious condition. Pneumonia developed last Saturday, and it was realized that her condition was hopeless and that the end was near. She was a native of Fleming county, and was one of a large family. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Abner Evans, of Flemingsburg. She has resided with her niece, Mrs. Ashby Leer, since the death of her sister, Mrs. T. P. Hoppr, Sr., of Mayslick, about two years ago. The remains were taken to Flemingsburg on the 8 a. m. train and were interred at 10:30. Among those who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Ashby Leer and little daughter, Josephine. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Prather.

ONE OF FIRST QUESTIONS BEFORE CONGRESS

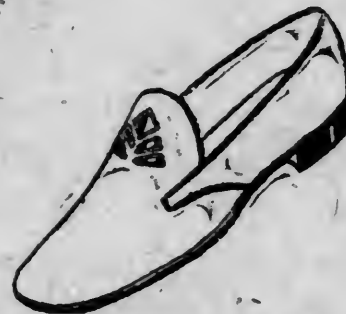

Rural credits legislation will be one of the first questions before Congress when it reassembles on January 12. The commission which investigated rural credit operations abroad announced that a bill was being prepared embracing the more important recommendations of the report now before President Wilson. The announcement was made Tuesday at Washington.

Bills introduced in each house of Congress will form the basis of the Administration's efforts to perfect new laws supplementary to the general banking legislation, to relieve financial conditions for farmers and make it easier for them to obtain working capital. The commission will make its report public as soon as it has received the approval of the President, soon after his return from the South.
